

EPHAR Young Investigators Award 2023

Call for Applications

EPHAR is pleased to announce that two awards of 1,000€ each will be given to young pharmacologists who have each published an outstanding research paper in the past two years (2021-2022).

Requirements:

Applicant must

- be under 35 years (at date of deadline);
- have published an outstanding paper in the past two years as first author;
- have conducted the submitted study in a European institution;
- be a member of one of EPHAR's member societies.

Application documents:

- publication as pdf file (if paper is accepted, but not yet published, please send the manuscript and confirmation of acceptance)
- a letter explaining i) how the study has advanced the field of pharmacology and ii) the contribution of the applicant to the study (for multi-author publications). Relevance of the study to the field of pharmacology is the single most important criterion for selection of the awardees.
- proof of age (copy of personal ID document)
- statement of membership to EPHAR member society (signed by official of the society)

Applications with all required documents in a single file are to be submitted in electronic form to the EPHAR Secretary General, Prof. Nezahat Tugba Durlu-Kandilci (e-mail: ndurlu@hacettepe.edu.tr and cc secretariat.ephar@segr.it).

Deadline: February 15, 2023

The outcome is anticipated to be announced by the end of March 2023.

The Federation of European Pharmacological Societies
Executive Committee

President Andreas Papapetropoulos (Greece), Secretary General Nezahat Tugba Durlu-Kandilci (Turkey), Treasurer Giuseppe Cirino (Italy), Committee Members María Jesús Sanz Ferrando (Spain), Clive Page (UK), Maria Jose Diogenes (Portugal), Peter Ferdinandy (Hungary), Stephan von Gunten (Switzerland), Thomas Wieland (Germany)